Victorien Sardou's plays, and showed ce more the greatness of her art and the flashes of true genius with which it is illumined. Mme. Duse interpreted the role of Clotilde, who discovers that her lover, the Marquis Andre d'Arcis, has given his affections to Fernande, whom she has rescued from a life of ignominy and shame. Sardou has drawn Clotilde with a true and a masterly hand. He has shown up the lights and shadows of her character, and he has made a wonderful study of the woman. Mine. Duse was exquisite throughout. It was a treat to watch her. Her face was an ever-changing picture, and in the fine details of the role she compelled the most enthusiastic admiration. Her natural methods were never more clearly instanced than in "Fernande." The company was fairly good, Sig. Ando making a hit as Pomerol. FOURTEENTH STREET THEATRE.

"Glen-da-Lough." a new Irish piay by Edmund S. Gurney, had its first metropolitan performance at the Fourteenth Street Theatre last night. It introduced J. K. Murray as the star. In the company were Charles A. Smiley W. H. Power, Jr., E. L. Walton, Samuel Morton, Mrs. Kate Morton and Ethelyn Strickland. Mr. Murray sang a number of songs. A criticism of "Glen-da-Lough" will appear in to-morrow's "Evening World."

NEW PARK THEATRE. NEW PARK THEATRE.

A racing play caled "The Outsider."
by Forbes Dawson, was acted for the first time in this city at the New Park Theatre last night. A murder, a sensational race, in which real horses, with real lockeys figured, and a number of specialty performers were among the varied attractions of the play, which may be considered a melodrama. There was a very large audience. "The Outsider" will be reviewed in these columns during the week.

H. B. LACORS! THEATRE. H R. JACOBS' THEATRE

H R. JACOBS' THEATRE.

"A Kentucky Girl" is the alluring title of the melodrama that was offered to the patrons of H. R. Jacobs' popular playhouse last night. The plot was a very exciting affair, and, in order to work it out, a buzz-saw, a blacksmith's forge, and an express train, "rushing at full speed," were utilized. The audience seemed to like the piece, which had humorous as well as melodramatic episodes. The cust was a good one.

MANHATTAN, OPERA-HOL'SE MANHATTAN OPERA-HOUSE.

Grand opera artists will be-grand opera artists. That means that they opera artists. That means that they must be indisposed occasionally, and bring agony to the hearts of their manager. At the Manhattan Opera-House has night "Carmen" had been promised, but it was not sung because the tenor Payne Clarke was ill. The time-honored "Bohemian Girl" was substituted, much to the disappointment of the audience. The cast was not a good one, but, under the circumstances, Mr. Hammerstein deserves sympathy rather than criticism.

EDEN MUSEE. This popular resort, to which ladies can go, with the glow of their shopping vigor upon them, had a very large attendance. There was nothing strikingly new, but there was plenty that was strikingly good. The Hungarian Band, that conducted by Danko Gahor, gave two very enjoyable concerts; the Princess Dolgorouki, the Russian violinist, played very accentably, and Guibal cess Dolgorouki, the Russian violinist, played very acceptably, and Guibal ad Greville were as extraordinary as ever-which means a good deal. Ando and Omne were also there.

TONY PASTOR'S.

TONY PASTOR'S.

There is a wealth of variety in the city at present, but the patrons of Tony Pastor's are constant to their own cosy little theatre in East Fourteenth street. The artists who appeared last night we.e: Tony Pastor, Mile Paquerette, J. W. Kelly, Vesta Victoria, the Russell brothers, little Bonnie Thornton, the three Marvelles, Lillie Western, Mildred and Rouclere, M. Jean Lavis, and Lane and Verona, who are clever cyclists, skaters and jugglers.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE. "Gloriana" was a great success when it was first presented in this city, at Herrmann's Theatre, and its return to the Union Square Theatre last night was very welcome. It is a capital the Union Square Theatre last night was very welcome. It is a capital farce, and is irresistibly funny. The piece was capitally acted. Henrietts Crossman played her original part, and Edwin Stevens, formerly of the Casino, interpreted the role created by Henley. Otis Harian, Charles B. Welles, Margaret Robinson and others were also seen.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE. GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.
Sutton Vane's "Span of Life," fresh from a triumphant week at the People's Theatre, was acted last night at the Grand Opera-House, where its picturesque scene, in which three acrobats form a bridge for the rescue of the heroine, was wildly applauded, The cast included Wright Huntington, as the hero; Ralph Delmore, as the villain; Rachel Sterling, as Kate Heathcote; W. J. Mills, James B. Radcliffe. Ethel Haines, and Mrs. William Calder.
WINDSOR THEATRE.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE. "Glen-da-Lough" and "The Outsider" Among the Productions.

Man. Eleonora Duse appeared at the Fifth Avenue Theatre last night in "Fernande," one of the strongest of Victorien Sardou's plays, and showed "COLUMBUS THEATRE."

A. Y. Pearson, who is becoming known as a great caterer for sensationalism, presented the lurid "Midnight Alarm" at the People's Theatre last night. There are no audiences in the city as found of melodrama as those that assemble at the People's. The Brooklyn Bridge scene, the thrilling flight of a very lightning express, and the genuine fire engine, drawn by two horses, were appreciated far more than the story of Victorien Sardou's plays, and showed

COLUMBUS THEATRE. COLUMBUS THEATRE.

Hurrah for Dockstader's minstrels!
They were seen, heard and appreciated at the Columbus Theatre, Harrem, last night, and they will do a big week's business. New York has not had them for a long time, and New York wants them. The genial Lew Dockstader—the word "genial" was coined for him—was as funny as ever. Frank Dumont, George Powers, Blockson and Burns and the Columbian Quartet were also futhe company.

IMPERIAL MUSIC HALL. TMF e.U.AL MUSIC HALL.

The programme at the Imperial Music Hall last night was a very long and an extremely interesting one. Among those who appeared were Lottle Gilson, William Jerome, with his clever parodles; a Japanese team, called the Kawakamis; Mason and Baliston, Swan and Bambard, Lillian Larkell, Fleurette, the Foy brothers, Burke and West, the Uleveland quartet Allyn and Lingard, Reto, the contortionist: Wood and Heasley, and Manning and Wooley.

HT BERTS MUSEUM

HUBER'S MUSEUM

There are many interesting features at Huber's Museum this week. The performing wolves, Annie Jones, the mammoth horse, called Major-Gen. Braddock; Lee Roy, the "nail king," Zorona, the Martin sisters, Prof. Holmes, Mile, Valetta, White Eagle Bill, Uno, the snake charmer; Prof. and Miss Lallian Carleste, the Metropolitan Novelty Company, and a dramatic company playing "The Danites," are among the many attractions offered.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE. HUBER'S MUSEUM PROCTOR'S THEATRE.

The vaudeville entertainment at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre was very well patronized vesterday. People saw the Imperial Japanese troupe 'from the Court Theatre of the Mikado at Tokio;' Lester and Wilson, Dora Wiley, the sweet singer of Maine, 'Van Auken and Rici, Miss Blanche Sherwood, the Herbert brothers, Miss Annie Hart, Montague and West Barney Reynolds, the King sisters, Charles Diamond, Sirk and Zeno, and a number of others.

The Thomas Dramatic Company appeared in Theatre No. 1 of Doris's Eighth Avenue Museum yesterday, and in Theatre No. 2 was the Ashland & Morley Variety Company. The curio halls had plenty of interesting material, Prof. George Moore's steam man, who, "guiding himself in every way, outruns the fastest sprinter, and can pull a train of cars" was the centre of much attention. The cat circus and Blasser's broom factory were also to be seen.

very good work. The vaudeville performance enlisted the services of Mile.
Violette, Marinelli, the admirable contortionist; the three Judges, Wood and Shephard, Kins-Ners, the fin de slecte quadrille and James Thornton, who contributed a new monologue act. Miss Christine Blessing sang a very pretty new aong by Herbert Harnden, called,
"Pictures in the Fire."

WORTH'S MUSEUM. WORTH'S MUSEUM.

Godfrey, "the mystery," began the last week of his engagement at Worth's Museum yesterday, and there were large au liences to welcome him. He was as puzzling and as interesting as ever. Next week a million dollars in gold will be exhibited at this house. A Mexican firm has arranged to make such an exhibit at the World's Fair, Chicago, but the coming display will be under the auspices of the World's Fair Souvenir Company, of Chicago.
